

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. It is not in the Public interest to smear a presidential candidate for the purpose of personal gain in an election outcome. This is an outrage. It is unfair to the millions of Americans that want a fair and free election without biased influence of broadcast station owners abusing their assets.

If this action is allowed America will no longer be the land of the free. This is state run propaganda the likes of which are usually confined to communist nations. This is a very sad day for the United States of America.
